Princeton's Computer Science Contest (COSCON)

Mission. To get students of all walks excited and thinking about a variety of topics that arise in computer science, as well as to appreciate their applications in other fields.

Summary of Last Semester's Contest

172 participants

$7000+ in prizes awarded

6 contributors

10 unique challenges

15 majors represented

19 prize winners

Breakdown of Participants by Concentration

Participant Class Years

Current and Previous Contributors